President's Message

By Jan Rosenberg

Dear Artists,

Hope you all had a great Holidays Season. I know that you were disappointed that we didn't get to party in December. But we plan to have our party in January at our regular monthly meeting. Bring your ornament or small piece of artwork for exchange.

We are looking forward to the new year, the board is working on plans for the upcoming year. We should have lots of fun. We should have a good year with all our regular activities, like Children's Annual Art Show, the Scholarship, the monthly Meet & Greet, workshops, field trips and fall show. We will be adding some more. Let's have fun and make some art. Looking forward to the new year!

Jan Rosenberg

Art and the Internet

By Karen Pugh

There is a site called PIXABAY that has free pictures to use for your art. Hundreds of them! There are intermingled little ads for other sites such as iStock (which is mostly not free) so watch that you do not click the ads. The site is organized by subject matter, so you can quickly search for exactly what you want. Or if you are like me.....I enjoy looking at everything I might want to paint! I have used it many times and find no security issues when using it.
