What Are You Doing For Your Art Guild And Gallery To Run Itself?

By Susan Sketers

As we have retired or semi-retired we have tapped into our passion to do, learn or support the arts. We joined an art guild to support that ideal. Because it takes all of us to have this group we need to raise our hand, speak out, make a telephone call and or send an email to volunteer somehow or someway. I, like you, would love to just come to the meetings and sit back and not have to lift a finger, but unfortunately it doesn't work that way. The more the merrier will make the Guild and Gallery work smoothly.

You may call me or whomever is in charge and find out what all this entails. Here are some jobs I know that are open. I will try and make these easy for you. Know that I understand all the other things we have in our lives like a spouse or loved one that is physically not stable, time with the grandchildren, time with other commitments like church, other clubs, company coming, health issues and working still I have heard them all. Please pray, think and connect with your fellow members about what you can do. As I said the more we come together in numbers the easier it is to do the jobs.

Our Gallery needs 2 or more persons to help run the Gallery (several would be great!). We can have a whole group and divide up the duties. This is all run by the volunteers that show at the Gallery and you may want to have a say on how it is run. Don't feel this is a tough job but rather a fun one that I will get with a group to oversee what all it entails. Know that our past fearless leaders will guide you through.

Please know that if you are a part of this Guild you must do something to contribute to its existence.
